

Hello,

Please see below for an opportunity of interest with the FIU Dept of Biological Sciences.

The Department of Biological Sciences at Florida International University (<https://biology.fiu.edu>) is seeking qualified candidates for an Open Rank, (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor) position in Plant Population Genetics. Scientists working in tropical agricultural systems and/or crop wild relatives are especially encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will be expected to have a solid publication record; to bring and maintain an active, externally-funded research program; to supervise graduate students in our Ph.D. program; and to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in their area of expertise and in the general plant sciences curriculum. Successful candidates could also become affiliated with several preeminent research institutes and centers relevant to tropical plant biology, including the Agroecology Program (<https://case.fiu.edu/earth-environment/agroecology/>), in the International Center for Tropical Botany (environment.fiu.edu/ictb/), within the Institute of Environment (environment.fiu.edu). The minimum requirements are a Doctoral degree from an accredited institution, a demonstrated record of achievement in teaching and service, and active academic research. To maximize opportunity and experience for our diverse student population, we value and seek diversity in applicants for this position.

Qualified candidates are encouraged to apply to Job Opening ID 525237 at <https://facultycareers.fiu.edu/> and attach cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statements of diversity, teaching, and research philosophy. Candidates will be requested to provide names and contact information for at least three references who will be contacted as determined by the search committee. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Review will continue until the position is filled. Please direct inquiries about this search to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Chris Baraloto (cbaralot@fiu.edu).
